About your business

1. What's the business name, exactly as it should appear on the site?

2. How long have you been operating, and what's the short story? (A sentence or two: who started it, how it grew.)

3. What makes you different from the other guys? (The thing you'd want every customer to know, said the way you'd say it to a customer. I'll use your words.)

4. Which towns or areas do you serve?

What the site should do

5. What do you want the website to do for you? (Bring more calls, look more professional, stop answering the same questions over and over, show up on Google, etc.)

6. Who are your best customers? (Homeowners, businesses, a certain town or type of job, whoever you'd like more of.)

7. How do most customers find you today? (Word of mouth, Google, Facebook, Nextdoor, truck signage, etc.)

Your services

8. List everything you offer, even the small stuff.

9. Which 3 to 5 services matter most, in order? (These go front and center.)

10. Is there anything you're phasing out or don't want advertised?

Look and feel

15. Pick around 3 words for how the site should come across. (Examples: professional, friendly, high-end, family-run, modern, established, no-nonsense.)

16. How do you talk with customers: casual, like a text message, or more buttoned-up? Is there anything a website could say that just wouldn't sound like you?

17. Any websites you like the look of? (Competitors or totally unrelated, anything that made you think "that looks good.")

18. Any colors you want, or definitely don't want?

19. Your logo and colors: keep what you've got, or is this a fresh start?

Photos and proof

20. What photos of your work do you have? (Phone pictures are fine: before/after, finished jobs, your crew, your truck.)

21. Anything you'd want photographed that you don't have pictures of yet?

22. Any reviews or testimonials you're proud of? (Google, Yelp, Nextdoor, a thank-you text from a customer, anything real.)

23. Licenses, certifications, insurance, memberships, awards: what should we show off?

How customers reach you

24. When someone's ready to hire you, what should they do: call, text, fill out a form, book online? (What do you actually prefer?)

25. Which phone number and email should appear on the site? And what are your hours, plus an emergency or after-hours line if you have one.

26. Should the site show your physical address, or just the areas you serve?

The details

27. What questions do customers always ask you? (These make a great FAQ.)

28. Any policies or fine print the site should state? (Payment types, deposits, service minimums, cancellation policy.)

30. Do you already own a website address (domain name)? If so, what is it?

31. Anything else on your mind, and what's the best way and time to reach you while we work on this together?
